Gender and Sexuality

This is the home of the Gender and Sexuality space. Many courses at Geneseo consider these topics so hopefully the space will be of use to people in various disciplines. Contributions to the space began in the spring of 2010 in association with Anthropology 224 Ethnography of Gender in Latin America. In 2013, students in HONR 207: Archaeology of Sex and Sexuality added contributions, and in 2018, students in WGST 320: Gender and Sexualities added content. Feel free to add academic resources on gender and sexuality here. If you have ideas for this space please contact aimers@geneseo.edu
