

The English major and general education

Contribute to discussion on this page by using Add Comment or by hitting Reply within an existing comment. To add a new topic to the forums, return here, click Add Topic, pose your question, then Save.

What should be the relationship between general education and the English major? Is it possible to rely on general education to ensure that our students meet some of the essential learning outcomes of the major?